‘Trump Youth’: Trump Announces ‘1776 Commission’ to Teach ‘Patriotic History’ in Opposition to Critical Race Theory, ‘Revisionist History’ in 1619 Project

This is a big topic, but I will summarize. It is absolutely correct to say that the 1619 project, which was funded by the NYT to focus America history around slavery, African contributions and critical race theory (aka anti-Whiteness) has been attacked by many academics as unserious. There are many serious historical errors, such as that slavery was good for the economy (blacks built America), the American revolutionary war was fought to protect slavery and that blacks fought alone after the civil war for equal rights. Conservatives attack it also for suggesting Lincoln opposed racial equality, which he did in wanting freed slaves deported back to Africa.

Regardless, Trump’s project to teach patriotic history has been attacked by the woke left as similar to the Hitler youth. If only that were true! The problem is, nothing about the trajectory of American history is based at all. In fact, Hitler himself said that America has a negro problem and a jewish problem which, without rectification, will be its downfall. How true! As many have pointed out, the mainstream (not woke) leftist version of American history is more accurate. Conservatives turn history into a referendum on the left’s racist, promoting “Founding Fathers porn” and bedtime stories. It is leftists who will point out that Lincoln wanted to deport freed slaves. The problem is, their perspective is obviously one of horror at that idea. For blacks have been non-stop oppressed in their minds by Whites, but blacks have the right to White people's stuff and if you say otherwise, you're a racist. The whole thing is incoherent.

I don't expect anything interesting will result from Trump's commission. It is simply another based move before the election to make up for the fact that he has done nothing for his base.
